

Summerfields' Miniature Railways

A great day out for all the family. Visit during a public running day and enjoy watching and riding on miniature trains!

The Summerfields Railways have been built by the Bedford Model Engineering Society as a place for members to run their locomotives. On certain days of the year the railway is open to the public to learn about the hobby and take a trip on a steam or diesel miniature train. There's space for a picnic and a purpose-built log cabin will serve a Station Buffet.

On public running days, the first train departs at 10:30 from Haynes End and the last train of the day departs at 15:45. A return ticket costs £2.00 per person but children under the age of two travel free.

People Say:

"Very child friendly, welcoming and friendly staff, nice cabin for tea and cake but picnics also welcome on their tables outside."

"Kids had an amazing time as they went around the tracks a few times. Friendly and attentive workers. Cheap and cheerful day out. I recommend this place 100%!"
